WALTER LOUIS KRAUSS

Walter Krauss was born on a farm near Leduc where his father farmed for many years. He attended a country school in the area and then took high school in Leduc. At the start of the war he went down to Los Angeles where he took a short course in general aircraft, specializing in hydraulics. He then returned to Alberta where he worked during the war in an aircraft plant at Edmonton. With all his building going into the army young Krauss tried to get in too, but an old leg injury kept him out.

After the war he went to an Italian residential school north of Edmonton where he taught manual training for seven years. Therefor three years he took charge of maintenance and heating at the school.

Mr. Krauss was educated in Drayton Valley Library for a number of years. The Krausses are members of the United Church. They own their own home in a very nice section of the town.

In 1956 he came to Drayton Valley to found Sound Time shop. He was no stranger to the city business when he came here as he had helped his brother Ben out in his shop in Edmonton. Looking after the shop for him during the summer months while Ben was on vacation, etc.

Walter married Miss Maxine Wilson in 1945. They have two children, Robert and Valerie. Krauss is a member of the Rotary Club. He has been very active in the scouting program in Drayton Valley.

Cheque Passer Given Jail Term

Quick police action on the part of the local R.C.M.P. resulted in the early capture of a bad-check passer, with a long record, which included breaking jail from a Knoxville, Tennessee workhouse.

The local R.C.M.P. received a phone call from Lodgepole early one morning recently to the effect that one Wilhem Turner had cashed a cheque in a Lodgepole store which was believed to be a forgery. When the same was mentioned to Constable Wilson of the local R.C.M.P., he remembered that a man by that name was posted as being a fugitive from justice in the U.S. Movement of the man in question was traced from Lodgepole to Drayton Valley and then to Edmonton and Constable Wilson called the Edmonton R.C.M.P. force detachment to tell them the fugitive was believed to be somewhere in Edmonton. An immediate check was made of all points of departure and Turner was found in the C.N.R. station within one hour of the time when the call had been received from Lodgepole.

and it was revealed that Turner had escaped from Kootenay Workhouse at Kamloops when he was serving three years for forgery.

A complete check was made with the American authorities

He had been in Canada about a month and had been working in Swab and Cap bank camp in the Lodgepole area, when he left, after making a number of company checks, two of which he had already cashed. Right away cashed cheques were also found on his person. Amounts of both cheques was less than $100.00.

100,000 CUSTOMERS

A Message from the President of Northwestern Utilities, Limited.

R. F. WILLSON

A new milestone in our service to Albertans was reached this month as our 100,000th customer began to enjoy the many benefits of natural gas.

This is a significant event in the history of natural gas service... a service that began in 1923.

It reflects the rapid growth which has come to Alberta, for at the end of the last year, Northwestern was serving only 18,000 customers.

In a 17-year span we have added 82,000 customers. Today we serve 75 communities... and of these, 68 received natural gas service for the first time in those same 17 years.

In 1945 the Viking-Kinella field was the sole source of supply. Now 14 separate sources, discovered at great expense by the producing industry, contribute to your comfort.

Through our nearly 40 years of operation, we have tried constantly to provide all the gas required by our citizens now and in the future, and to provide the finest possible gas service.

As a company dedicated to meeting the needs of the people of Alberta, we have played a significant part in contributing to the economy of our province through year by year investment in gas wells, pipelines, distribution systems and related facilities.

Above all, we have helped Albertans enjoy higher standards of modern living through the provision of efficient natural gas service. In spite of today's much higher cost levels, this has been accomplished while helping to keep Alberta's gas rates very nearly the lowest in North America.

Natural gas, indeed, has played a large part in the continuing upward surge of Alberta through the availability of ample supplies to industry.

As we pause for a moment, we would like to restate Northwestern's continuing policy:

"The company's policy is to provide the best possible gas service at the lowest possible cost consistent with the highest standards of safety and dependability."

Chapel Hour Homesickness

I will write and go into my father... Lake 1514.

By Rev. Neil Gregory Smith

artificial perception of God's good gifts. The apostle of St. Paul in part for instance, in the pervasiveness of the boyhood and fidelity of happy homes. The Oxford Dictionary defines homesickness as "a sad depression of mind and body" occasioned by a longing for home in the absence from it.

This is an apt description of the condition of the prodigal at the turning point of his career. Having come to want in the far country he was in a state of depression of mind and body, longing to be home, he reached the stage where he thought longingly of better days he had known in his home. Even the hired servants there were better off than he was in the far country. In the throes of this attack of homesickness he made his resolution to go back. "I will arise," he said, "and go unto my father." In his homesickness he turned his face again towards his father's house.

To the sons of Adam venturing to the far places of the earth in quest of wealth and adventure the sensations of homesickness have long been familiar. Robert Browning remembers in Italy the glories of April in England, Highland emigrants remembering in Canada the lone shillings and the misty hills, and Jewish exiles weeping beside the rivers of Babylon when they remembered of Zion were slaving and voluting an experience that is common to all humanity.

EVEN KING DAVID

On at least one occasion David, king of Israel, was homesick for his old home in Bethlehem. During the war with the Philistines his fortunes were at a low ebb. He was in a cave at Achish, worried as to what was to become of his kingdom and the people who had placed confidence in his leadership. He apparently began to think about his old life in Bethlehem, from which he had been called to assume the responsibilities and cares of kingship, and he became very homesick. "And David was in the hold, and the agonies of the Philistines was then in Bethlehem."

The pangs of homesickness which came to David in the cave of Achish, and which subdued the soul of the prodigal son wide awake in the far country, have been experienced at some time or other by the great majority of people. In the parable this experience of homesickness is represented as one of the factors which impelled the prodigal to turn his face again towards his father's house.

Men have always seen in the parable of the prodigal a representation of the relationship between man and God. He is our Father, and His home is our home.

One plain implication is that the fellowship of God is the natural dwelling place of man. It is of for this fellowship with God that we were created. It is for this that our faculties are adapted. One of the old church fathers wrote of the soul of man as being "naturally Christian." He meant from one point of view the Christian life of fellowship with God and charity with man is the natural existence for which we were created. It is something which pervades the real self, something which goes against the grain of things.

There is a sense in which all life is a perversion, an unnatural one.

sick soul. They may be, as one of the poets suggests, the shade of God's hand unsupervised carelessly. These pangs of homesickness have served their purpose if they impel us to turn our faces again to our Father's home and to our Father's fellowship.

MY ANSWER

BY BILLY GRAHAM

Question: I am the child of separated parents. I would like to live with my mother who is a Christian. But the courts have ruled that I must live with my father. I don't like to live with him, but what can I do?

Answer: Until you have reached the age of responsibility you must abide by the ruling of the court. Every broken home situation is an unhappy one, and especially trying for the children. This situation is not an easy one for a young person to face. You must be patient and wait for your father to make up for his unhappiness. This will accomplish nothing for you.

When you have no alternative, it is always best to accept graciously whatever your lot may be. Do not make your father's sinfulness your own. The decision of the court, in fact, this may be God's way of bringing your own father to the Father. Love him as your father, and within him as one who needs Christ. Even though he is not a believer, you will have the Bible admonition to honor him as your earthly father.

Above all, learn to be contented with the things that you have, for the Bible says, "Be content with such things as ye have, for himself he said, 'I will not rise fall then, neither will I in any wise forsake them.' (Hebrews 13:5)

QUESTION: Every time I plan to go to church my wife takes a sick spell, or at least it seems to me. Is she never the depressive type said that why I'm so puzzled. Why should she behave this way, and how can I help her?

ANSWER: Your wife's illness may be the real thing, and it is not necessarily an attempt to deceive you. People who are spiritually concerned will react in strange ways without knowing why they do so. She may be disturbed over her sin and need of God and her resistance may well cause the nervous reaction, if the were

Do You Believe?

Are you an active member, the kind that would be missed,

Or are you just content that your name is on the list?

Do you attend the meetings, and mingle with the flock or do you stay away and criticize and knock?

Do you take an active part to help the work along?

Or are you satisfied to be the kind that "just belong"?

Do you ever go to visit or call a member who is sick?

Or leave the work to just a few, and then call them "the clique"?

There's quite a programme scheduled, that I'm sure you've heard about

And we'll appreciate it if you, too, will come and help us out.

So come to meetings regular, and help with hand and heart.

Don't just be a member, but take an active part.

Think it over members, you know right from wrong.

Be an active member, and not a "just belong."

For more information on this show see Steve Hadden. When one owns a horse it is a highly personal, even an emotional thing, so close can you feel to the animal. Many people consider their horses as members of the family, much more so than their dogs or cats.

This closeness to a horse is the stuff of which competition is made. When you own a horse you soon come to feel that this animal is very special. Maybe he isn't the fastest horse alive, but by George he's got speed! Perhaps he doesn't have muscle in all the right places - but when those doors close, he'll be a little long! or short in the back (or so) but this doesn't hurt his speed or action one bit.

On other occasions you get proud of that horse - particularly if you just own one. And if it's long before you own others to see what he can do. You soon find yourself wanting to compare his horse's ability. This is not the only reason people like to compete on horseback, of course. Breeders must take their horses to shows to prove the quality of their blood line. Most owners are filled with a strong competitive competitive spirit themselves. And mounted contests are healthy, exhilarating outlets for their energies. Age doesn't seem to have much to do with this. You'll see people who have been retired for years as well as riders just starting to school or even younger.

Whatever the motivation and regardless of age, horsemen must have competition - Stock saddle contests have been spreading across the country. Nearly all the breeds of good horses have doubled, then tripled in numbers since 1945. And it's growing and more events in Western Stock Saddle Contests are being run as rodeo events. These events are all wonderful training for both horse and rider. Teaching coordination and teamwork.

Our seasons of events will be commencing the latter part of this month and as we mature last week's need is ever great for associate members, people to act as timekeepers and judges of events, scribes, flagmen and just generally by helping us to make our club a bigger and better one than last year's. So at the next general meeting on Monday, April 20th, at 8:00 P.M. in the Legion Hall I would like to see all of our year's members present and also anyone interested in helping us this year. How about each member bringing a potential member with them.

The Club is now selling tickets on a yearling Harewood Heifer to be held in the gymkhana at the Drayton Valley, June 22nd, at the Sile Hall. Contact Club members regarding tickets.

LEAGION AUXILIARY NEWS

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary was held in the Legion Hall on Tuesday, April 10th.

It was suggested that we obtain a set of silvers, in order that we may be in a better position to take on catering jobs, and also for our own banquets, etc. Prices being obtained, and this will be ordered at our next meeting.

It was originally agreed by the ladies to paint the walls of the Legion Hall. Since the meeting, different suggestions have been received, and this notice is to advise all ladies that we will NOT be going ahead with this painting at our May 1st meeting. This will again be brought up at that time.

A souvenir cup and saucer was presented to Mrs. Eleanor Whitman, who is leaving to make her home in Victoria. She will be greatly missed by our auxiliary. The next meeting will be on May 17th with Gladys W. Terrence and Marge Tooley as hostesses.

Hon Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, has announced that the 45 m. p.h. speed limit is not yet in effect on any two-lane highway in the Province. He points out that the Vehicle and Highway Traffic Act was amended permitting the Executive Council to raise the speed limit on certain two-lane highways pending same are so posted. At that time there must be an Order-in-Council raising the speed limit on each respective highway, and the new speed limit must be posted on signs on the highway before the new limit becomes effective.

The Minister points out that he has had a number of people contact him who had taken from stories sitting out of the amendment. That the new speed limit was already in effect on all modern two-lane highways. The Minister also pointed out that the amendment was not effective until July 1st, 1963, and only then after an Order-in-Council authorized the new speed limit.

Health Unit Notes Increase In Infant Mortality Rates

According to recent Health Unit statistics, the birth rate in 1961 of 36.39 births per 1,000 of the population was a most encouraging figure.

The program will consist of Marches Overtures and Waltzes with local talent performing during intermission. The local group of majorettes will also be in attendance.

The general death of 6.19 deaths per 1,000 population compared with 4.6 in 1960. Accident deaths claimed the lives of six children and 14 adults.

Total number of births recorded was 611; birth rate (number of births per 1,000 population) 36.39; per cent born in hospital 98.1; per cent born within health unit area, 71.6; per cent born over health unit area, 28.4.

Total number of deaths recorded, 139; general death rate (number of deaths per 1,000 live births), 6.19; number of accident deaths in children 6; and number of accident deaths in adults, 14.

Six board meetings were held during the year, and W. Neville Hume was elected board chairman. P. Rasek was appointed to represent the town of Hinton in place of L.A. Mahon who is no longer in municipal office.

The board approved a set of Health Unit regulations for use by the officer of health and secretary. The board also approved the Health Unit at the annual Health Unit conference held in October-November. Resolutions of the conference were presented by the board chairman on behalf of the Health Unit.

Nine staff meetings were held during the year. This year marked a number of changes. Up till this time the majority of the staff had served with the Health Unit for several years. In spite of this the scheduled programs and a greatly expanded staff health program were successfully completed.

"Before one decides to live by his wits, he should make sure that he has the necessary equipment."

"What are you doing out of bed?" was the father called from the bottom of the stairs. After a short pause a small voice answered, "I just got up to look myself back in."

Two hundred and forty-two well-baby clinics were held, forty-one less than in 1960. There were 8,979 attendances for an average of just over 20.5 per clinic.

The number of those attending the clinic for the first time in 1961 closely approximated the number of newborns during the year. In previous years the number of new attendances was greater than the number of newborns due to the fact that many pre-school children were attending the clinic for the first time.

The total number of infants attending our clinic was approximately the same as in 1960 but this number as a percentage of total attendances was 50 per cent compared with just over 38 per cent in 1960.

The fall in the incidence of infant deaths is a most encouraging sign. In the nine years since the first clinic was held in the town of Hinton there has been a marked decrease in the number of infant deaths. In 1954 there were 16 deaths in the town of Hinton. In 1961 there were 6 deaths.

Underneath that fancy white Seattle Exposition has Howard Gaudin, Howard and his wife, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Baza visited the World's Fair. By a twist of circumstance their son Gene Randolph and his wife and family spent at the Fair gates.

Jim McInnes, office man with Mainline, here, also visited the Fair. He took his son and daughter to see how the folks live below the "Lies".

Former Town of Drayton Valley residents, Dale Schmitz left the town employ to return to his first love, mining. He is heading for Grand Forks, B.C.

Still other Seattle Fair visitors were the Jack August family, Jack and Phyllis spent a fine time in the big Coast city.

Leaving P. L. and Drayton Valley, P. L. and Drayton Valley, Mr. Kams visited with P. L.

When they were first formed into a company eight years ago, they had been in Drayton Valley about 6 years. He is heading for Los Angeles where he will reside permanently.

Over the Easter week holidays Tom McLennan and his wife, Elaine, with little Dee Dee took off for Spokane where they spent a pleasant week.

Mrs. Dorothy Valiquette now residing in Calgary spent a few days in Drayton Valley re-seeing old acquaintances recently. After Fortby's husband Al did several months ago she moved with her family to the mid-western city.

Headed east via T.C.A. jetliner to Toronto to visit his folks was Harold Townsend, it was Harold's 14th trip across the continent.

While the garage is being readied for big new things C.D. Fair and wife take took off westward for an extended and well-earned vacation trip. First they visited daughter Elaine and husband Ralph Oshard in Kelowna, B.C. Then they headed westward to the Coast and Seattle where Ted has a younger brother. They took in the Fair, which they say is already packed with sight-seers and more are yet to come as there are over 2 million reservations from California alone.

Southward they went from Seattle down the coast highway R101. At Santa Maria California they visited the Bolings, Ken and Doreen. They also are gardening at Island, near Santa Maria, where they do things in such a big way they even use combines to harvest spinach.

In L.A. they visited a niece of "Red" who lives in nearby Fullerton and took in all the regular tourist sights. Doreen, Marie Land, Koons Berry Farm, etc. They returned to the Portview of Opportunity via Highway 91, they went through La Vegas, and San Luis City Vegas.

Everyone wasn't going to Seattle however for Larry and Elaine Vickery went to Grande Prairie to the big Square Dance do and won the plaque for coming the longest distance. Accompanying the Vickerys were Mr. and Mrs. Les Herdson. The plaque has been all over North America.

Ron Elmsheimer is leaving May 15th, on vacation. After that he expects to be transferred to an S.C. store on Vancouver Island. Part of his vacation will be spent in Peace River where his wife lives.

Doer forgot the Town Cleanup. The Alkema Bros. Whitcomb Drive-in Theatre got into operation this week. Drayton Valley 100 Series will be running the outdoor showhouse this summer. There is room for 250 cars. Film feature will be "For Maniac", starring Joel Michale.

Anyone notice that the dogs are not behaving too much? We hear rumors that each dog is worth $1.00 delivered to the right spot. Wouldn't care to live a dog's life right now.

The Brian Gooding family also returned to D.V. After taking in all the famous outdoor spots, including some of the plush spas in Las Vegas.

During 1961 measles was prevalent with 111 cases notified, against mainly in the last quarter 153 cases were notified in 1960.

Scarlet fever and streptococcal sore throats 49 cases were notified against 45 in 1960. A number of these cases were confirmed by positive throat swabs.

Rubella - 97 cases were notified as against 55 in 1960. Gamma globulin was given to 18 pregnant women exposed to this disease.

Dysentery - 9 cases of dysentery occurred in 1961 compared with 16 in 1960. Two cases of salmonellosis occurred in young children in December. No cases of polio occurred in 1961 compared with four cases in 1960.

In school 716 students were tuberculin tested and 41 adults of these five students and 10 adults were positive reactors. Fifteen chest x-rays and 22 chest re-rays. Tests were carried out on contacts of positive reactors. At the same time 120 adults were tuberculin tested and six were positive reactors. Of these 41 had chest x-rays, 135 persons had chest re-rays.

Nineteen persons were admitted to the sanatorium during the year, three were re-admitted and 21 were discharged. Four of these had chest x-rays, had non-tubercular conditions. One person who absconded was apprehended and returned to the sanatorium for further care.

The scheduled school health program was carried out during the year. In addition all students participating in the physical education program of the school were school division will be examined during the school year. There had been a steady increase each year in the school population and this trend looks like being maintained in view of our annual number of births. The school population has increased by 370 students since 1960. The dental health program included students from Grades 1, 2 and 3.

Two guidance clinics were held at school during the year in May and November. We have been unsuccessful in arranging more frequent visits of the guidance clinics to school and also visits to other centres.

In 1961, 404 complaints and enquiries were made to the Health Inspector, more than double the figure for the previous year. Of these more than 7 per cent concerned public health matters.

Tommie Star came to the conclusion that the political situation here is currently like that in British Columbia; there is not much interest in the election thus far. Treads of thought apparently indicate the belief that Mr. Diefenbaker will return to Parliament in 1968, but there is not a general widespread knowledge of campaign issues that may decide the election.

POLICE COURT

The following cases have appeared in the local Town of Drayton Valley Police Court in the past three weeks:

Under Town Bylaws: Six have been charged for driving without Car Care and Attention, with differing circumstances. In most of the cases fines were levied as follows: 1 fined $10, 2 fined $15, each, 1 fined $30, and 1 fined $25.00.

Under the Criminal Code of Canada, one was summoned to 30 days in Fort Saskatchewan for breaking and entering and the same man was given an additional 14 days in the Fort for using an N.S.F. cheque.

Two others, on charges of illegal possession were fined $25.00 each and one was fined $20.00. A minor consumption liquor was fined $5.00 on the second.

Having left Drayton blottoing in Ontario and British Columbia, the incident day did nothing to dispel any illusions he may have had regarding the prairies as a chilly tent.

After talking with several Drayton Valley residents the Tommie Star came to the conclusion that the political situation here is currently like that in British Columbia; there is not much interest in the election thus far.

premiere was fined $20, and a charge of illegal consumption of liquor drew a fine of $25.00. For supplying liquor to an interested one man was fined $5.00.

BLOOD DONOR CLINIC

Drayton Valley folks, helped out by folks from surrounding districts which included Leduc, Togo, Leduc, Leduc and a few other nearby places, named our camp two hundred and eighty-five strong to donate blood for the recently opened Blood Donor Clinic.

For the second time in a row the United Church was away out in front of the parade as far as number of registered donors was concerned and won the A.A.N. plaque quite handsly.

Red Cross officials indicated that they were well satisfied with the turnout of donors.
